Mr. Moore

It is not very often that I get the pleasure of writing a letter to say thank you. Often my letters are of complaints, and of ill nature. I would like say thank you for having such an honest person working for your company. I am referring to a gentleman named James Coffey. It seems that I lost some tools on the UPS Centennial Hub Jobsite and a month later on a Saturday Mr. Coffey returned these tools to me telling me I left them in the road. It is not very often that someone is kind and honest, and would have returned the tools. Mr. Moore in closing I would like to say thank you to Mr. Coffey and yourself for keeping my company's and my own equipment safe and secure on the jobsite.

Sincerely yours,

Eric Frederick
